At the Liviakis Law Firm, our attorneys offer debt relief and bankruptcy services for individuals, families and business owners who are facing staggering and complex debt problems and want to keep their family home and other assets. We believe that starting over isn't enough. The idea of just starting over from debt is what leads many people to travel down the same road to debt, resulting in a fair percentage of people who file a second time. That is why we focus our practice on people who are looking for the opportunity to get out of debt with an eye on building a successful financial future. That means coupling bankruptcy with financial recovery tools to ensure that the money you once paid a creditor, you now protect for yourself and your future generations.
